

Dear Preschools,

I'm excited to announce EastBayPreschools.com will continue! As you had heard, after 14 years I decided to turn the page to a new chapter.

After my announcement a few weeks back, many of you contacted me, asking to keep the site going – thank you. When Jodi & Mike Mascaro contacted me, I knew it was the perfect fit - a Preschool Teacher & Technology guru. Over the next few weeks, I will be transferring the site over to them so it can continue to grow and be the fantastic site you know.

What does this mean to you?

- 2 free months on the site, they will be sending out the 2019 invoices soon

- Same www.EastBayPreschools.com
- More local marketing and events
- A new local family to maintain the site
- More EastBayPreschools.com swag
- More search features implemented over the next year

A little about Mike & Jodi:

Mike Mascaro has been in the tech and website world since 1994. He has owned a small IT company, Diablo Microsystems, and currently manages Northern California for Pact-One Solutions. His team built and designed the website for BFI (Garbage company), many of the East Bay's Chamber of Commerce sites, and many small businesses in the Diablo Valley through the early 2000's. Currently, Mike works with Medical & Dental designing and implementing technology.

Jodi is a dedicated, experienced Early Childhood Education professional. Her educational background includes a M.S. Ed. in Early Childhood Education from Cal. State University, East Bay and a B.S. in Child Development from Cal. State University, Fresno. Her 20 years of ECE experience includes Head Infant Teacher, California State U. Fresno, Head Teacher, San Jose State University Child Development Center, and since 2004, ECE Specialist, Chabot Las Positas Community College, Livermore.

Together Mike & Jodi own Little Blue Truck Inc, a company dedicated to Early Childhood Development. They also have 2 young children, a passion for preschools, families, and the East Bay!

Thank you for your support over the last 14 years, if you have any questions feel free to email myself or Mike.

Mike@eastbaypreschools.com
Jennifer@eastbaypreschools.com

Best Wishes-
Jennifer Jelavich