EBP News

EastBayPreschools.com has big news! We are currently working on redesigning our website and expanding to BayAreaPreschools.com in order to provide resources to more parents in the Bay Area and represent more preschools! Stay tuned for more info...

Our first preschool fair of the school year will be this Thursday, October 3rd, 2019 at Club Sport in San Ramon. We look forward to representing all of our Tri-Valley schools at this event, and many more throughout the year.

Five things to know now about California's new vaccine law

"California has a new vaccination law on the books. It cracks down on inappropriate use of medical exemptions that allow kids to skip some or all vaccines and still enter school. It gives power over the exemption process to public health officials and will create a vaccination database of all children with medical dispensation."

Turtle's Tip of the Month

Did you know that many parents look up the director of a school on LinkedIn, and sometimes even the teachers?

We recommend having a professional profile photo and updated contact information on your LinkedIn page.

LinkedIn is also important for building your professional network and making connections!

Building a Gender-Balanced Workforce: Supporting Male Teachers

"As young children grow, they need to know that people of all genders have an important role to play in their care and education. Early childhood education plays a critical part in young children's gender identity development (Solomon 2016). When young children do not have relationships with male teachers and caregivers, traditional gender stereotypes are reinforced, particularly as they relate to children's understanding of who is responsible for their growth and learning (Aina & Petronella 2011; Brownhill & Oates 2016)..." continue reading here.

5 Multicultural Activities for Preschoolers to Help Teach the Importance of Diversity

"Your preschool classroom is a reflection of America—a melting pot of different ethnicities, languages and cultural beliefs. It's normal for children to be curious about people who look or act differently than they do, as this natural curiosity presents the perfect opportunity to bring the importance of diversity into your classroom."
